Sault College prepares to welcome new students

(Sault Ste. Marie, ON August 22, 2011) With only weeks to go, there is still time to start at Sault College this fall. “We are about two weeks away from Fall Start and our orientation team has put together fantastic events and activities to help students adjust to college life,” says Leo Tiberi, Vice President, Academic. “We are thrilled to welcome students to our new Academic Wing and to show off our many renovations over the summer. Students and staff alike are getting excited to be a part of a very dynamic campus.”

Tanya Running, Student Recruitment and Success Advisor works with the marketing team to assist prospective students with the application process. “It’s not too late to apply to many of our programs,” explains Running. “Some programs currently available include general arts and science, culinary management, forest conservation technician, motive power, business and metal fabrication technician.”

“We now offer quick admission to those who come to campus. Quick admit guarantees applicants 24 hour admission turnaround when they provide us their transcripts and application fee of $95. We offer one-to-one service to complete each individual request.”

Some academic programs at this point have a waiting list and are closed to applications.

However, Sault College offers a January intake to accommodate need and year round Second Career applications. It is more convenient to our students to have more than one entry time in the calendar year into our programs.

Offices Open Saturday, September 3

For those students who have confirmed their offer and are starting this Fall, the college will have Accounting, Campus One, Athletics, Student Financial Assistance (to pick up OSAP) offices and the bookstore open from 10am-2pm on Saturday, September 3. Students and parents wishing to beat the line-ups during the first week of school can access these services on the Saturday before school starts. Campus tours will be available and students will be able to purchase frosh kits and tickets to orientation events as well. For more information about registration and orientation week contact Student Recruitment at 705.759.2554 ext.2222.
